Sacramento's 48th Annual

HARVEST MARKET

Scottish Rite Masonic Center | Sacramento | 10.12.25

Dear Community Member:

For nearing five decades, the Sacramento Jewish Food Faire has brought thousands together from the Greater Sacramento area to enjoy ethnically vibrant foods and culture. This year, the 48th Jewish Food Faire Harvest Market is being held at the Sacramento Scottish Rite Masonic Center on Sunday, October 12, 2025. We would love to have you join in supporting this event as a sponsor.

The Sacramento Jewish Food Faire provides a place for people to be part of a larger community in an atmosphere of neighborliness around a value that all historic cultures share: the role of food in community and traditions. Plus, as we all know, food brings people together. With this year's move to a larger and more centrally located location, we are able to expand the event to include a full maker's market and vendor fair, stage entertainment, contests, a special beer/wine garden, and so much more! Admission to the event remains FREE! Your sponsorship will help make this a harvest festival to be celebrated by all!

Did I mention the event is entirely supported by volunteers? Our authentic cuisine is sourced, curated, and created by these volunteers with a charge to maintain authenticity while focusing on supporting local suppliers and using quality ingredients. Plus, we also are able to give back to the community because of the Food Faire. It allows us to keep helping local food banks, assist the homeless, provide free educational opportunities, and more.

Please join us in supporting the 48th Sacramento Jewish Food Faire. Additional sponsorship information is attached. Please reach out to myself or to sacjewishfoodfaire@gmail.com for any questions or assistance. Thank you for what you already are doing for our community.

With Warm Regards,
